

Dear fellow Pirates,

From the Pirate Party of Croatia we call upon our brothers in arms. Now is the time for action.

As you may know, the European parliamentary elections in Croatia are being held on the 14th of April this year and the Pirate Party of Croatia has a big chance of getting enough votes to have an MP elected. Our system in which the two largest parties traditionally get the most votes is slowly losing support from the people ever since our prime minister ended in prison for corruption. Only 40% of people turn up for any of our elections, and the latest predictions are that maybe only 25% of voters will turn up for the EUP elections. The early polls show we can easily get at least 6% of the vote just from our target audience (i.e. young and awesome people). Unfortunately, the internet, guerilla marketing, and other free methods may not be enough, so we're counting on your help to break Croatian voter apathy. The more votes we get, the more MP's we'll have in the Parliament so we can join the effort into leading the Europe the pirate way.

We believe in crowdfunding! Donate however much you won't miss and please recommend us to a friend or two. If we got €10 from every pirate party member, we would probably have enough to win elections three times over. A very lucky thing is that our country has fewer than five million people and the monetary standards in Croatia are pretty low, so it's not too expensive to run a campaign.

For a price of coffee in a large European city(6-10€) you can help us put up 20 posters, pay for 3 second of radio coverage in prime time or 1 second of prime time on the national TV channel.
